To whom it may concern,

The On-Site Group, and most recently Will Spong and Ant Hampshaw within their operation, have supplied temporary Mechanical and Electrical Operatives to CF Roberts Plc since 2008.

In recent years, CF Roberts has elected to have On-Site as one of the primary sources of site operatives to supplement our own workforce, both from our Cheltenham and Hereford offices.

This decision came as a result of On-Site's competitive approach to rates, combined with a quality level of service from point of order, through supply on-site, and in assessment of their performance after the completion of a project.

It is also refreshing that On-site are always honest in their approach and we know we can trust their communication at all times, allowing us to plan around their feedback if need be, as they source the operatives for us.

We would recommend the service of On-Site to any other mechanical and electrical contractors who are looking for an honest, effective, cost-efficient approach to the supply of temporary site operatives nationwide.
